Experience

Interactive Developer at Pipitone Group

September 2006 - August 2009 (3 years)

I designed and developed several web and interactive projects for clients such as PPG, Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh, Carnegie Museum of Art, and Highmark. I developed pixel-perfect presentation layers of websites based on functional specifications, requirements, and comps from the creative team. I collaborated with Managers, Art Directors, Designers, and Project Leads in the development of new websites and interactive projects. I quickly and accurately perform maintenance tasks on several websites. I also researched and learned about new emerging web technologies and techniques.

9 people have recommended Dustin

"Dustin is a strong team member, a hard worker and dedicated to the tasks in which he is assigned. It was not an easy decision to lay-off Dustin. We hope it is temporary and only for a short time. However if he is able to find work that would benefit and further his career goals we wish him all the best."

— Francine Forbes, Office Manager, Pipitone Group, worked with Dustin at Pipitone Group

"Going the extra mile is second nature for Dustin. I have had nothing but positive experiences with Dustin's interactive work on websites, application skinning and PowerPoint templates. He has the ability to integrate traditional creative concepts and make them digital friendly. Above all is his desire to learn and grow."

— Arnie Begler, Vice President, Pipitone Group, managed Dustin indirectly at Pipitone Group

"I am always happy to work with Dustin on a project. He always does a great job, always goes the extra mile, and always follows up. He pays great attention to detail and makes sure that everything is right the first time. I know that whatever we are working on will be done on time and on budget! He is a great asset to any project and any team."

— Kim Aggazio, Interactive Project Manager, Pipitone Group, worked directly with Dustin at Pipitone Group

"I've worked with Dustin on numerous occasions and his work is always first rate and professional. He listens to your needs and then works with you to develop solutions based on your input criteria. Dustin also offers advice and helpful suggestion during the process. I highly recommend Dustin without reservation."

— Scott Husted, was Dustin's client

"It is my pleasure to recommend Dustin McGrew. His performance working as a Interactive Developer at the Pipitone Group has proven that he will be a valuable addition to any company. I have known Dustin for three years in my capacity as Creative Director at Pipitone Group. Dustin has worked with me on various projects as a designer and developer, with clients ranging from Consumer to Foundation. If his performance in our company is a good indication of how he would perform in yours, he would be an extremely positive asset to your organization. Yours Sincerely, Michael Maskarinec."

— Michael Maskarinec, CREATIVE DIRECTOR, Pipitone Group, managed Dustin indirectly at Pipitone Group

"During my time at Pipitone I worked directly with Dustin on a number of projects. He is a very knowledgeable and dedicated developer, a great team player and always does superior work. Dustin would make an excellent fit for any development team."
